Fear His Name

Overkill

On judgment day, the moon lights the way
And those with open eyes will see, hail the avenger
Midnight defender, the end will never be
You look to the light, dawn of a new day
Hail the avenger, he who lights the wayAway with your fear, I've cried all my tears
Delivered from the night, hail the avenger
Laughing at danger, shed blood, bring life
If you live by the sword, you die by the sword
All hail the avenger, accept our new lordThe defeated lay lifeless in the pit, his face reflects
The horror of his victims in tenfold, a death of deaths
All evil fear his name, struck down by a man
His severed limbs ooze oceans of our bloodMan stands, oh knee deep, within Paused to scream, this is not a sin
I have done your will, I've delivered
From this day forth, known as the avengerGuarding the weak and those who seek Asylum from a world of wrong
Hail the avenger, midnight defender
Silent bold and strongYou echo our cry, so ends war
All hail the avenger, victory hour
Ooh, victory ours, our vengeance recall
Those starting to fall, oh victory hour
