Never Slept So Soundly

RX Bandits

Couldn't see the moon
When she came tonight
Emptiness inside her filled my room
I know its only distance
But its feels just like the end
I won't ask this same old question
Adamant resistance to my lasting desires
Searching for an explanation to why I sleep alone
Oh I'm not driving anymore
If you call you just use my name
Let these clenched fists open wide to see
Where all the answers lie

Looking for a sign that I'm still alive
With these pilled up smiles
And these sloppy eyes yeah
Oh isn't that the truth?
And all the hollow whisperings
From between your sheets
All the maybes in the world
Don't mean anything now
Pray its over soon
Never slept so soundly
Than with your breath on my neck

The present has no future
The future has no past
The past is just a graveyard
For the lonely ghost regret
It's so hard to say good-bye
When I shake too much to hold
Let this blood within me run
So I can see the answers dry

Lookin for a sign that I'm still alive
With this junky smile and these sloppy eyes yeah
Oh isn't that the truth?
And all the hollow whisperings
From between your sheets

All the maybes in the world don't mean anything now
I pray its over soon

Finding our directions
Stumble
Stagger
Fall away
Oh yeah

Finding our direction
Let it lead the way
Part of what you borrowed
Can never be replaced
So pardon my deflection baby
There's no more blood to bleed
But if I can I'll be sewin' up the seeds
Pickin' up what's left of me
To sing together

Lookin' for a sign that I'm still alive
With these pilled up smiles and these sloppy eyes
Oh isn't that the truth?
And all the hollow whisperings
From between the sheets
All the maybes in the world don't mean a thing
Isn't that the truth?

And I'm lookin' for reason that I'm still alive with
These pilled up smiles and these sloppy eyes
Isn't that the truth?
And all the hollow whisperings
From between your sheets
All the maybes in the world don't mean anything now
Pray its over soon

I never slept so soundly
Than with your breath on my neck
