Dream Big

Katrina Elam

There comes a time in every bodies life When your destiny is born There's no doubt what you're all about Is there without a warningWhen it comes you gotta take it And believe you're gonna make it through There's not a challenge you can't face There's not a rainbow you can't chaseDream big, reach high Don't ever be afraid to spread your wings and fly With a heart full of faith A whole lotta luck and some love to see you through Dream big and it just might come trueAlways know what the future holds Is in the hands of fate And don't forget that when times get tough The gift is worth the waitAnd when it finally comes together Your star will shine forever more And it could give hope to all the rest Show them how to be the bestDream big, reach high

With a heart full of faith
A whole lotta luck and some love to see you through Dream big and it just might come trueOh, with a heart full of faith
A whole lotta luck and some love to see you through Dream big and it just might come true

Don't ever be afraid to spread your wings and fly
