Joanna

Scott Walker

Joanna
I can't forget the one they call Joanna
We own the summer
Hand in hand, JoannaAnd now she's always just a tear away
Goodbye you, you long lost summer
Leaving me behind, you
Repeating things for lovers that may find you
I still hang on to every word
That day you passed my wayJoanna, you made the man
A child again so sweetly
He breathed your smile
Looked in your eyes completely
And in his heart there's still a trace of youI loved you but nothing in this world
Could make you mine
Yet still in time, Joanna
Joanna, you may remember me
And change your mindI loved you but nothing in this world
Could make you mine
But still in time, JoannaJoanna, you may remember me
And change your mind
