Sans Souci

Lucy Woodward

Sans souci, ah, sans souci They got no room here for someone like meOh, the mountains start to giggle When the springtime waters wiggle

Down the mountainsideI can hear the fishes swishing

Just as loud as I'm a wishing

When I hit the tideGo, go, go, go

Go, go, goSans souci, ah, sans souci

They got no room here for someone like meGo, go, go, go

Go, go, go, goTry to tell me I was evil, try to trample on my soul

Try to make me think that they were righteous

But the plot of the lie was wholeGo, go, go, go

Go, go, go, goSans souci, ah, sans souci

They got no room here for someone like meAh, the earth, it starts a squaking

'Cause it knows that love is walking

And it ain't no dream, no, you ain't no dream

Sans souci, you ain't no dreamGo, go, go, go

Go, go, go, goTry to tell me I was evil, try to trample on my soul

Try to make me think that they were righteous

But the plot of the lie was wholeGo, go, go, go

Go, go, go, goFeel yourselves with all laughing and talking

That used to beGo, go, go, go

Go, go, go, go

Go, go, go, go

Sans souci
