

Who Loves You Better

The Isley Brothers

Some say you're too easy,
'cause you stay by my side.
I'm the one who keeps you happy,
And you keep me satisfied.
Just be my lady,
That'll be enough for me.
And it won't matter baby.

What your friends think they see. Who loves you better, better, than I do, I do.
Who knows you better, better, than I do, than I do.

Every day that passes by,
Every night I spend with you.
Puzzled by the things you try,
Saddened by the things you do.
He can say sweet things to you,
And promise you security.
I find strength in loving you,

Don't fight my love, give in to me. Who loves you better, better, than I do, I do.
Who knows you better, better, than I do, than I do.

You know you can't live your life,
Doin' what the others do.
Always takin' their advice,
May not be the best for you.
Just be my lady,
And that'll be enough for me.
And it won't matter baby,

What your friends think they see. Who loves you better, better, than I do, I do.
Who knows you better, better, than I do...

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>