

Closer Still

Wilshire

I woke up this morning to face another day
The sun wasn't shining in this world that I had made
I looked to the mirror to see what I'd become
And somehow I knew that part of me was gone I looked and looked and couldn't find Something to fill this heart of mine
And all that I could do
Is think of You The further I get from me
Closer to You, I believe
I want to be closer still
Where You are, what You will I'm tired of chasing temporary things
The short-lived satisfaction my foolishness can bring
I feel it's coming down to this, I think it's time to take a risk
I know just what to do, I'll make my way to You The further I get from me
Closer to You, I believe
I want to be closer still
Where You are, what You will The further I get from me
Closer to You, I believe
I want to be closer still
Where You are, what You will
