If Tonight Is My Last

Laura Izibor

If an angel came down to me, asked what I would do differently
I would say nothing, you see, I love someone truly
And if I do not see tomorrow, you know it's gonna be alright
'Cause I got my baby right by my sideAnd if the rain ain't falling and the sun ain't shining
It makes no difference to me I'm right where I wanna beAnd if tonight is my last what I gotta do?
And if tonight is my last I wanna spend it with you
And if the sky fall's down it's gonna be alright
'Cause I got you here tonightIf I had to give all that I own
In return for the love that's grown
I would give it gladly 'cause nothing else compares
To the moments that we sharedAnd if the rain ain't falling and the sun ain't shining
It makes no difference to me I'm right where I wanna beAnd if tonight is my last what I gotta do?
And if tonight is my last I wanna spend it with you
And if the sky fall's down it's gonna be alright
'Cause I got you here tonightOnly given a short time on this earth
You gotta make each moment worth something beautiful
You gotta give every bit of you for the love
Half just won't doAnd if tonight is my last what I gotta do?
And if tonight is my last I wanna spend it with you
And if the sky fall's down it's gonna be alright
'Cause I got you here tonightIf tonight is my last what I gotta do?
(It's gonna be alright, it's gonna be alright)
If tonight is my last I wanna spend it with you
(It's gonna be alright, it's gonna be alright)
And if the sky fall's down it's gonna be alright
(It's gonna be alright, it's gonna be alright)
Because I got you here tonight, here tonight
(It's gonna be alright, it's gonna be alright)It's gonna be alrightIf an angel came down to me, asked what I would do differently
I would say nothing, you see, I love someone truly
