

Desire

Tuxedomoon

You're the buyer or the seller
Makes you want what you can have
I'm glad I made you cry Makes you go where you can't go
Makes you want what you can't have Desire Don't think, don't think, don't think
Don't think, don't think, don't think
Go buy, go buy, go buy Don't think, don't think, don't think
Go buy, go buy, go buy
Don't think, don't think, don't think
Don't think, don't think, don't think Buying the moment
Sometimes I want to die in my bed
All I can think about is when are we leaving
Every time I think of you I want a cigarette Man chooses himself
Hero with a thousand faces
It's the third night and the walls are shaking
Boys buying boys Pleasure bringing pain it's all the same
I put my hand by my mouth
So I know I'm still breathing So we joked about the TV set
Calling in the eye of hell
I would love to have people see what I see
I would love to be a pillar of strength in my community A little order a little grace
Something new to fill up this place
Live thousand lives by picture
Mark this song is for you Don't think
Go buy I'm a lousy lover I give and never take
Makes you go where you can't go
Makes you want what you can't have Makes you want what
You can't have what
Makes you want what
You can't have what Makes you want what
You can't have what
Makes you want what
You can't Can't have, can have
Can't have, can have
Can't have, can have
Can't have, can have
Can't have Live a thousand lives by picture
Live a thousand lives by picture
Live a thousand lives by picture

Live a thousand livesLive a thousand lives by picture
Live a thousand lives by picture
