She Wants To Be Alone

Ingram Hill

She don't believe in anything
Never in love with those who love her
Taking time by men's side
She carries her weight of broken dreams
Carefully hiding everything from her heart
Doesn't know what she's missing
She wants to be alone
She wants to change her whole way of life
She wants to be alone and there's no way around
She said, she doesn't need me, she doesn't need anyone
Selling the girl you never see
Falling apart to the sound of nothing
She likes it that way
Waited around patiently, hoping to be the one she needs
But she's running away, turning away
She won't stay

She wants to be alone
She wants to change her whole way of life
She wants to be alone and there's no way around
She said, she doesn't need me, she doesn't need anyone
Keep me in mind, I will be on call all the time
'Cause I want you more than anyone
She wants to be alone
She wants to change her whole way of life
She wants to be alone and there's no way around
She said that she doesn't need me
She wants to be alone
She wants to change her whole way of life
She wants to be alone and there's no way around
She said, she doesn't need me and she doesn't need anyone
She doesn't need anyone
