

California

Belinda Carlisle

I remember I was in the tanning salon
When I heard that river Phoenix was gone
They say that only the good die young
But that ain't true where I come from
California, CaliforniaIt took a lot for me to say
I want to walk away, L.A.
From the sharks and the Chardonnay
In California, in CaliforniaFour in the morning we were in our beds
The swaying palm trees above our heads
Woke up to a primal rumbling sound
When the northridge quake ripped open the ground
California, CaliforniaIt took a lot for me to say
I want to walk away, L.A.
From the sharks and the Chardonnay
In California, in CaliforniaGolden state, I'm back in the golden state
Golden state of mind
Golden state, I'm back in the golden state
Golden state of mindIt took a lot for me to say
I want to walk away, L.A.
From the sharks and the Chardonnay
In California, in CaliforniaWalk, walk, walk away
Walk, walk, walk awayI remember I was in the tanning salon
When I heard that river Phoenix was gone

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>