Psychic

Vanessa Hudgens

Sometimes I feel his love, sometimes I don't There's times when he proves it and times when he won't It's time I know the deal about how he truly feels
I guess what's killing me is just not knowingMy friends all tell me maybe I should seek a psychic
They tell me just beware I may or may not like it
But either way, I know I need to get some answers
About where I stand with him
How do I know? I need to knowIf he's for real, won't you please let me know?
Or is he just playing, what your magic card shows?
Something 'bout when he's here, makes me not see so clear
Does your crystal ball show any loving at all?My friends all tell me maybe I should seek a psychic
They tell me just beware I may or may not like it
But either way, I know I need to get some answers
About where I stand with him
How do I know? I need to knowI know this must seem so desperate
But desperate's what I've become I'll do anything to know I'm the only one
Anything to get the truth from youMy friends all tell me maybe I should seek a psychic
They tell me just beware I may or may not like it
But either way, I know I need to get some answers
About where I stand with himMy friends all tell me maybe I should seek a psychic
They tell me just beware I may or may not like it
But either way, I know I need to get some answers
About where I stand with himHow do I know? I need to know
How do I know? I need to know
How do I know? I need to know
How do I know? I need to know

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/