

Using Words to Describe the Ocean

Origami Ghosts

We're getting close to getting these ideas harnessed
Let's get them out of me, these good thoughts seem to hit the pavement
All I ever wanted to do was write a book like tender is than I
I guess that means I wanna poke someone's mind with my thoughts
But words are trivial, thoughts are just as petty
Using words to describe the ocean, you're acting like a jetty

We're getting close to getting these eyesores unblemished
You cease to stop though, I block you thown a wrench in it
All I ever wanted to do was write a book like tender is than I
I guess that means I wanna poke someone's mind with my thoughts
Words are dead weight, thoughts are just as heavy
Using words to describe the ocean, you're acting like a jetty

Now here is the world I used to know
She is the girl I pick flowers for
In the dark I hear the same excuse
In the day I see nothings changed
Oh my god

Near the water alone
It never describe
In the waters alone
Just like them
