Baby

Iggy Pop

Baby, don't you cry
Baby, I'll sing you a lullaby
We're walking down the street of chance
Where the chances are always slim or none
And the intentions unjust
Baby, there's nothing to see
I've already been down the street of chance
Baby, you're so clean
Baby, please stay clean
We're walking down the street of chance
Where the chances are always slim or none
And the intentions unjust
Baby, there's nothing to see
I've already been down the street of chance

Baby, you're so young
Baby, please stay young
We're walking down the street of chance
Where the chances are always slim or none
And the intentions unjust
Baby, there's nothing to see
I've already been down the street of chance
Baby, don't you cry
Baby, I've already cried
We're walking down the street of chance
The chances are always slim or none
And the intentions unjust
And the intentions unjust
And the intentions unjust
