

Thoughts of a Soldier

Funker Vogt

It never was and never will be
The sun setting beyond horizons
It always was and ever will be
The earth which keeps on turningThe world moved on and left me here
The world moved on and left me here
The world moved on and left me here
The world moved on and left me hereThe world moved on and left me here
Without any direction
I feel hopeless without fear
Facing this selectionThe emptiness crowds in around me
No distractions from my thoughts
Remembering the last words
It won't be long, I promise
