

Reborn

Klak Tik

I thought I knew at least,
What freedom really means
A job that I hate
Work everyday
I could be wrong I tried my best to tame
The wilderness inside
Every thought
Not thought out
I pretend to be over Now I've finally woken up
To the beauty of the world
Through a love song
Through a love song that I heard
From the rivers and the birds In the end it was the sounds
I found city life too loud
So away I walked
Through the urban sprawl
Ears to the ground
Trying to find myself some piece of mind
