When the Day Goes Down

Eurythmics

Well, don't you cry now
Don't go drowning in your tears
Haven't you learnt anything
After all these years?And all God's little children
Are beautiful and pure
And you're as good as all of them
Of this you can be sureAnd we are just the same
Underneath the shadows of the sun
And we are just the same
No more no less than anyoneAll the people of this lonely world
Have a piece of pain inside
Don't go thinking you're the only one
Who ever broke right down and criedThat's when the rain comes down
That's when the rain comes pouring downAnd this is for the broken dreamers
And this is for vacant souls
And this is for the hopeless losers
And this is for the helpless foolsAnd the burnt out and the useless
And the lonely and the weak
And the lost and the degraded
And the too dumb to speakAnd the day goes down
And the day goes down
That's when the day goes falling down
And the day goes downThat's when the day goes down
That's when the day goes falling down
That's when the day goes down, falling down
That's when the day goes down
That's when the day goes down
That's when the day goes down
That's when the day goes down

Lyrics provided by