

Black Valor

The Black Dahlia Murder

We bear the bloodline of the conqueror
Behold this war scarred coat of arms
Weathered and worn are we
But with an eye ajar we sleep with blade in hand
We're waiting for the call Join us, black valor's on our side
Striking with satanic force
We'll crust their fabled Christ Decimated by a whirlwind of insufferable attacks
Impenetrable black phalanx of our unblessed spear and shield
We march upon the enemy with hate, with hate
On this day of victory Christian blood will soak these battlefields The tidings of a war infernal
Destruction of all angelic life
To bear the mark of the pentagram circle reviled Armageddon's drawing nearer
On the coattails of the end we'll ride
Of death we hath no fear
Hails, black valor's on our side
Boundless is unholiness iniquitous our pride
Each man a god unto himself spirit never to die To the almighty one, unholy bearer of horns
Empower me, flow through my veins
And carry me in war
To the unwavering devoted to the dark
I drink these wines of majesty to you Do you show the standard of six hundred sixty sixth?
Will your flesh withstand the dawning of apocalypse?
Does your will it guide the spear that pierced the martyr's ribs?
We will not rest till this rotten planet's black as pitch The tidings of a war infernal
Destruction of all angelic life
To bear the mark of the pentagram circle reviled Brothers, black valor's on our side
Striking with satanic force
We'll crush their fabled Christ
Unhallowed Armageddon's drawing near
Boundless is unholiness of death we hath no fear
