Without a Sound

Torche

I pull the covers 'cross the bed
I tuck away the thoughts in my head
And I live behind closed doors
Knowing I will always love you more
And I won't fall apart
I won't lie in pieces on the ground
I won't fall apart
If we say it all without a sound
If we could last another day
Filled with nothing left to say
I will know I've loved my best
Then maybe I could put my heart to rest
And I won't fall apart
I won't lie in pieces on the ground
And I won't fall apart
If we say it all without a sound
If I could make the sun rise a little too slow
To keep from hearing what I already know
And I won't fall apart
I won't lie in pieces on the ground
No, I won't fall apart
If we say it all without a sound
I will live behind closed doors
Knowing I will always love you more
