

Don't Cry

Nathan Pacheco

Don't cry, don't cry though hope seems gone.
Don't cry, This battle still can be won
And all these tears, that blind and cloud your days..
Will fall to the ground, your bitter fears will fade away.
Hold on, until the journey's end.
Hold on, this broken heart too will mend
Reach out, I'll come and take your hand
One day, Your darkest seas will lead to promised land.
Hold on, let it pass you by ;
Hold on don't quit, you've got the angels by your side
Your heart is strong enough to see this battle won
Your faith will make the morning come.
Don't cry, I'll see this journey through
Don't cry, I'll cross through storms to find you
And carry you home, to never go away...
To rest from the storm, and find a joy that passes healing to the pain.
Hold on, let it pass you by ;
Hold on don't quit, you've got the angels by your side
Your heart is strong enough to see this battle won
Your faith will make the morning come.
Your faith will bring the rising sun.
