

Judge Me

K. Michelle

Heaven, heaven don't say bye to my soul
I just wanna make it, make it through the door before the glow
I hate that I couldn't get right even if I tried
It's a shame how we love but only God can judge Judge me, judge me all you want
I'm only human and I'm perfectly flawed
I know it's easy to point your finger at me
'Cause I say the things that only y'all think
So judge me if you need, I bet Eve was just like me Oh, who wouldn't bite the apple in front of your face?
I know that I love, I love the way temptation taste
I hate that I couldn't get right even if I tried
It's a sin how we love but only God can judge Judge me, judge me all you want
I'm only human and I'm perfectly flawed
I know it's easy to point your finger at me
'Cause I say the things that only y'all think
So judge me if you need, I bet Eve was just like me Judge me, judge me all you want
I'm only human and I'm perfectly flawed
I know it's easy to point your finger at me
'Cause I say the things that only y'all think
So judge me if you need, I bet Eve was just like me
Just like me
I bet it works just like me
Just like me
