

Boris The Animal

I See Stars

I can't be saved Turn up To the baneful beast in me
All of your hate
You're your own worst enemy
You throw your pain into a bottle to numb yourself
And realize the party's over Who, who do I answer to when my blood thins out like twine
Always searching for myself at the bottom of a bottle
I won't be hard to find This is not the path that you were made for
Just take a look around
Just take a look around
Get off the floor
You were meant for so much more
Get off the floor
You were meant for so much more Who, who do I answer to when my blood thins out like twine
Always searching for myself at the bottom of a bottle
I won't be hard to find This is not the path that you were made for
Just take a look around
Just take a look around
Get off the floor
You were meant for so much more
Get off the floor
You were meant for so much more Get off the floor
You were meant for so much more I can't be saved You are your own worst enemy Pick yourself up off your feet
You'll never admit defeat
Your eyes stare straight into me
We're all our own worst enemies
