Holding On

Scary Kids Scaring Kids

There goes the sunJust trying to find your way anywhere
But you've come to find you're alone
It's getting dark and you've lost your way
I haven't let you go as long as you know thatI'm losing what's left of my dignity
But I'll fight till the end for her heart
I'll never give up for what's possibly
For better or worse this love must be cursedYou just try to keep your head down
But you come to find that trust has come and gone
Everyone out there is listening
But you don't care at all and you're probably glad to knowI'm losing what's left of my dignity
But I'll fight till the end for her heart
I'll never give up for what's possibly
For better or worse this love must be cursedYou already let it pass through your lips
You can't take it back now
(It's already out)
You already let it pass through your lips
Can't take it back
(It's already out)You already let it pass through your lips
You can't take it back now
(It's already out)
You already let it pass through your lips
You can't take it back nowI'm losing what's left of my dignity
But I'll fight till the end for her heart
I'll never give up for what's possibly
For better or worse this love must be cursedI'm holding on to her
(This love must be cursed)
I'm holding on to her
(This love must be cursed)
I'm holding onI'm afraid to say she never made it home
Couldn't keep her head on
She was so close
I'm afraid to say she never made it homeI'm afraid to say she never made it home
I'm afraid to say she never made it home
I'm afraid to say she never made it home
(Couldn't keep her head on)
Afraid to say she never made it home
