Lo-Pro

I think I'll say goodbye to the bright side
I think I'll change my mind
And let the worlds collide
I'll throw it all away, releasing everything I feel like I'm home again
Where everything feels right
I'm all alone again
But I am right inside Ignoring all the pieces of my broken life
And hiding all the patches on my beaten pride
I'm seeing everything in a different light
And proving to myself I'm still alive
I'll throw it all away, releasing everything I feel like I'm home again
Where everything feels right
I'm all alone again
But I am right inside Proving to myself I'm still alive I feel like I'm home again
Where everything feels right
I'm all alone again
But I am right inside
