

Just Another

Darling Parade

Took my time without you, to forget you
I tried my best to let the days erase the nights.
I was never gonna let you, never gonna let you get the best of me
But you showed up, and said you make it rightI'm second guessing cause we both know how this ends
You try to tell me this is now or never
My heart is racing and the chemistry's creeping in
But your never gonna get itWoooh you're just another
Just another sad excuse for a lover
You're trouble undercover
Give up and give in, I've got your number
You're gonna know how it hurts to be the one who's left alone
Wooo you're just another
Just another sad excuse for a loverYou're barely holding on
I know you've tried to hide it
Laced with imperfections
You don't even know, you don't even think about it
I've had it up to my neck
I'm getting stuck on words that you've said
You keep trying to act like your the best that I could getYou had it wrong when you thought you'd won the fight
Pick up your gloves cause I'm still standing
I should have known that you were never right
Cause your on your own tonightWoooh you're just another
Just another sad excuse for a lover
You're trouble undercover
Give up and give in, I've got your number
You're gonna know how it hurts to be the one who's left alone
Wooo you're just another
Just another sad excuse for a loverI'm alright, without you, without you
I won't change my mind, about you, about you
I see your eyes in every corner
But I won't lose this fight
I'm alright this timeWoooh you're just another
Just another sad excuse for a lover
Ooh you're just another
You're trouble undercoverI see your eyes in every corner
But I won't lose this fight
I'm alright this time
Ye, I'm alright this time

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlyrics.com/>