

Empires Attraction

Matt Corby

No one's going to save us
Superman please save us
No one's going to save us No one's going to save us
Superman please save us
Hollywood creators, they're the one who take us
Someone's trying to trade us
And we are all in danger We're made up in the paper
Everybody knows that
Everybody knows that
No one's going to save you Prince is going to save you
Wu-tang might just save you
Rock n roll won't stage us
The banks are going to frame us
We must be courageous
We are going to save us
Your mama's going to save us
How can they save you if they can't help themselves? Someone's trying to shame us
Making it contagious
The blueprints of salvation from idle corporations
The empires attractions are getting no reactions
And gives no satisfaction Something's got to shape us
Borefom's going to shape us
Something's got to shake us out of this and save us How can they save you if they can't help themselves?
How can they save you if they can't help themselves?
How can they save you if they can't help themselves?
How can they save you if they can't help themselves?
