

I Can Just Be Me

Laura Story

I've been doing all that I can
To hold it all together, piece by piece
I've been feeling like a failure
Trying to be braver
Than I could ever be
It's just not me

So be my hero, be my comfort
Be my peace
Cause I can be broken
I can be me, Lord I need you now
To be, be my God
So I can just believe

I've been living like an orphan
Trying to belong here
But it's just not my role
I've been holding on so tightly
To all the things that I think
Will satisfy my soul
But I'm letting go

So be my father, my mighty warrior
Be my king
Cause I can be scatter, forever shattered
Lord I need you now to be
Be my guide so I can just be me

Cause I wasn't lost
And this don't go wrong
Till I was finally found in you
So now I need desperately please
Ow lord be all to me

And be my savior, be my lifeline
Won't you be my everything?
Cause I'm so tired
Of trying to be someone
I was never meant to be
Be my ..., pleased be my guide

Be my guide so I can just be me
So I can just be me
I can just be me
