

The Other Side of the Mountain

Mudcrutch

I'm over here missing you today,
are you feeling the same way too?
Sometimes it seems like your so far away, and I just don't know what I can do. On the other side of the mountain, where I long, I long to be, to be with you.
But this mountain that's there between us,
makes it so hard, so hard to see,
to see it through. The life we had grows distant now.
You let me in so close, so long.
When your spirit moves round the room,
I can't help but do the right thing wrong.
If I could only find a way,
I'd be headed over there to your side,
but until the mountain moves I can only pray, and you know I won't be satisfied. On the other side of the mountain, where I long, I long to be, to be with you.
But this mountain that's there between us,
makes it so hard, so hard to see,
to see it through. If I could slide through these bars, I'd go back and cross that burning bridge.
Just to hold you in my arms,
I'd find a way to cross that rocky ridge. On the other side of the mountain, where I long, I long to be, to be with you.
But this mountain that's there between us,
makes it so hard, so hard to see,
to see it through.
