

Beautiful to Me

Haley Dreis

Golden eyes light the skies
twinkling on the emptiness inside her mind. She lives her life thinking she's not good enough to be the perfect girl in her life.

Pre-Chorus:

And she finds another reason to cry
as she dries her weary eyes
I want to give her time
to know that it's alright in asking...

Chorus:

Who is that girl hiding from the world?
Looking through the glass and I can see that she would die to be set free.
Well I will be here to tell you,
"Darling, you are beautiful to me."

Pretty girl, don't you cry.
Close the books and magazines, close your eyes.
Take a look deep within,
Appreciate the gift you have been given.

[Pre-Chorus]

[Chorus]

Bridge:

Worthless places, fearful faces
Broken glass, it cuts, erases
Looking at the mirror
She will see an image and be happy

End Chorus:

She is that girl facing the world
Looking through the glass and she can
see that she would die to be set free
Well I will be here to tell you,
"Darling you are beautiful to me."
And baby, can't you see?
