

Chapel (Acoustic)

Karmacoda

I will pull you alive, I will make you thrive
To quicken your breath, (be)fore you realize
This life's about pain, everything's the same

We're taking it back, here're the keys againThough there's something's I would change

With all our lives so rearranged

And though it's tears until the end

I swear I know we'll come againLife is insane though we can't refrain

Grabbed hold of a tail that we'll never tame

I know that I know that we're all afraid

Just talk to the fear cause it's tailor madeThough there's something's I won't change

With all our lives so rearranged

And though it's tears until the end

I swear I know you'll come againI need you now, I need to now

I want you aroundWell there's nothing I would change

With all our lives so rearranged

And though it's tears until the end

I swear I know we'll come again

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlrics.com/>