Who Will Decide

The Haunted

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Don't hold your breath fort a new revolution
The future is wasted on petty fraud
A grade A average with perfect skin
Fight for a freedom of choose, between shit and more shitTruth, to what use? Trust, whom to?
Within these confinements, a word will spread like fireSo stand your ground, choose your direction
Who will decide? Facing the facts, the lie
Who will decide? These are the victims, these are the crimes
Who will decide? If you give up the fight, who will decide?Exploit, suck out the marrow, suck out the bones
Drain it, a negative image
Roots upturned, a palace of mirrorsSo stand your ground, choose your direction
Who will decide? Facing the facts, the lie
Who will decide? These are the victims, these are the crimes
Who will decide? If you give up the fight, who will decide?Social movement my ass, most of us can barely read
And the rest all believe in the gospel of corporate truth
Skewered and screened infotainment to uphold
And magnify the frail myth of modern democracy
We all know the construction and why it prevailsSo stand your ground, choose your direction
Who will decide? Facing the facts, the lie
Who will decide? These are the victims, these are the crimes
Who will decide? If you give up the fight, who will decide?
