

Sailing On a Shell

Nicola Sedda

Every day I try to find new aims
While the sunset shines above
I'm awaiting the new dawn
I'm sitting there to write down words to share
It's the best time of my life
There is nothing wrong tonight
And the magic that surrounds me
Is a travel through the years
When you feel lost and you roam alone
Listen to the wind
Just find yourself
Don't waste your time again

Every breath lost in this empty room
While your tears fall to the floor
Make an ocean still unknown
Raise your hands and touch those frozen walls
It is time to tear them down
Let your past fall to the ground
And the magic that surrounds you
Is a travel through the years
When you feel lost and you roam alone
Listen to the wind
Just find yourself
Don't waste your time again

Don't be afraid
Sailing on a shell
Trying to make a difference while you roam through hell
I know what I want
I won't sell my soul
Trust yourself again
Trying to make a difference while you face the end
I know what I want
I'll tear down the walls to save my soul

Is my destiny unknown?
I've found the greatest dawn
It is time to realise you're not alone

Here's the answer, try to make it yours

Just find yourself

Don't waste your time again

Sailing on a shell

Trying to make a difference while you roam through hell

I know what I want

I won't sell my soul

Trust yourself again

Trying to make a difference while you face the end

I know what I want

I'll tear down the walls to save my soul

I can save my soul

Lyrics Submitted by Pearman255

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>