Armored Saint

A perfect chair
To park my derriere
Look out the window and see the world moving alongA scenic view
Tell me what I should do
It's irrelevant 'cause
I don't ever listenYou still offer your ostrich omelette
You already bought the farmA snail's pace
Is better than that rat race
The labyrinth maze is never endingSo skip the cheese
And rise from your knees
That concrete ground ain't very comfy
You still offer your calloused hand
But your just a shell of a manDive off the deep end Someone's drained the pool a hard surface you collideDives off the deep end Why choose to pretendWhat your diving towards
Is an owl's eyeDive off the deep end
Dive off the deep endSomones draided the pool
Faster than you collideDive off the deep end Try not to pretendWhat your timing towards empty boobie prizeDive
Dive
Dive
