I Held up My End of the Deal

In Reverie

Sleeping all day, and letting sound fill up my night.
Let's add this to the list of things I didn't get right.
I'll sit and wait to see your face.

I've started taking all this day by day.
(As if there's any other way)
I can't pretend that I don't care anymore.
I've kept my promise.

I try to push these thoughts away with all my might,
but it doesn't help that you're in all the songs I write.
These notes I play, they keep me safe.

I've started taking all this day by day.
(As if there's any other way)
I can't pretend that I don't care anymore.
I've kept my promise.

As I lose myself in this audial bliss,
I get away from the little things I dearly miss.
When I come back down from this cloud I gotta face the truth.
I can't escape the pain. I can't help but always love you.

I've started taking all this day by day.
(As if there's any other way)
I can't pretend that I don't care anymore.
I've kept my promise.
