

Ghosting

A Life Once Lost

I am impatient, hard to please
No sense of serenity, habitual neurosis
Transcends into thoughts of suicideAnd when this body lays lifeless
 Don't patronize me by
Insisting this was all done because of youI am beyond redemption
 Even in death I will not speak
 I am beyond redemption
Even in death I will not sleepWith abandonment of trust and self
 Hope is void of longevity, a shelterless recluse
I survive without reasonAnd when this body lays lifeless
 Don't patronize me by
Insisting this was all done because of youI am beyond redemption
 Even in death I will not speak
 I am beyond redemption
Even in death I will not sleepI am beyond redemption
 Even in death I will not speak
 I am beyond redemption
Even in death I will not sleepI sacrifice myself to the lonely other
 For she will not rest until
Death's arms embrace meI am beyond redemption
 Even in death I will not speak
 I am beyond redemption
Even in death I will not sleepI am beyond redemption
 Even in death I will not speak
 I am beyond redemption
Even in death I will not sleep
