

How Can It Be

Take That

It's funny how your life can change
Memories of love remain
Inside your heart for all this time
At last you find a different road
And suddenly you're not alone
A game of love rests upon your mind I could feel the love like steel
It's like a sense you have inside
You never knew How can it be that you love me
All that I've seen who really want your love and all?
How can it be that you and me
So desperately need each other everyday?
And what does it mean that you want me?
Now it's for real today, yeah At time it's easy to forget
All the things you once regret
And never learn to pay the price
Someday the rain will fall within Remember, face it don't give in
And watch the bad times pass you by I could feel the love like steel
It's like a sense you have inside
You never knew How can it be that you love me
All that I've seen who really want your love and ohh?
How can it be that you and me
So desperately need each other everyday?
And what does it mean that you want me?
Now it's for real today, yeah I could feel the love like steel
It's like a sense you have inside
You never knew, oh yeah How can it be that you love me
All that I've seen who really want your love and ohh?
How can it be that you and me
So desperately need each other everyday?
And what does it mean that you want me?
Now it's for real today, yeah
