Identity

Kutless

Iâ€™ve been looking from the outside, outside
Iâ€™ve been walking on a straight line, straight line
Scared to let the world see my failures, who I am, or who Iâ€™ve been

Iâ€™ve been waiting for somebody else to Take the chance that I am so afraid to
I donâ€™t know how to find myself am I the only one the only one

Oh I wanna feel You move me like a river running through me
I am so tired of trying to prove it Iâ€™m never gonna do it alone
God I need You to be my identity

Itâ€™s always easier to hide behind that
Camouflage that keeps our hearts so guarded
But thereâ€™s no shame when we surrender everything to You
Everything to You

I want to see the world change, see the system cave in
You pull our hearts from the ashes
The cry of the captive is rising
