Nothing Lost - Nothing Gained

Midnight Oil

In my world there are sorrows
I'd rather drown in happiness
Come the morning when the darkness through
That story's bound to changeAnd in my world and in my world
It's all the same
And nothings ventured, nothing's gained
And nothings lost and nothing's changedGo and jump aboard the train of freedom
It's a one way fare
You can find out now that when the tunnels through
Your tickets vanished, forgotten youAnd in my world and in my world
It's all the same
And nothings ventured, nothing's gained
And nothings lost and nothing's changedTurn up the TV, make the music loud
Better to ignore the rabid dog baying at your door
Draw the blind, change the channel if you dare
Better to say, I don't careAnd in my world and in my world
It's all the same
And nothings ventured, nothing's gained
And nothings lost and nothing's changedYou hear the bell, you know it's time to jump off
'Cause there's nothing at the platforms edge again
It's too late, it's over to you
