

Heartbeat Smile

Alejandro Escovedo

A fortune I would pay if I thought it would heal
A pair of broken hearts on the top of the hill.
Loveâ€™s like a hurricane or a run away train.
Take our chances on the numbers we play.

I miss my friends with the heartbeat smile.
I miss my friends with the heartbeat smile.
On the east side of the bay we watch the parade.
I miss my friends with the heartbeat smile.

And the roar of the crowd the lights from above.
And these things take a toll on that given his love.
The man took a fan plays a crooked guitar.
And the songs that he sings in the dungeons and bars.

I miss my friends with the heartbeat smile.
I miss my friends with the heartbeat smile.
On the east side of the bay we watch the parade.
I miss my friends with the heartbeat smile.

We laugh and we run the sky wouldn't fall.
Depleted the sun with another tall tale.
San Francisco New York the alleys have grown.
I wish I could lift and carry you home.

I miss my friends with the heartbeat smile.
I miss my friends with the heartbeat smile.
On the east side of the bay we watch the parade.
I miss my friends with the heartbeat
with the heartbeat
with the heartbeat smile.
