

Forever

David Correy

Well always love yeah yeah yeah
forever

Well Ill never forget that day I still see ya face everywhere I go its crazy you're like a picture sitting inside a frame hanging on a wall in the back of my mind looking back when we were so young walking hanging never thought it would last for so long but as the seasons change things didnt stay the same still i wasnt ready to move on i promised to never lead you astray you said your love for me would never fade away but just like life every love has its growing pains but no matter what forever i will always be there baby girl i swear my love is unconditional ill never leave you ill always be true no matter what you say or do girl

No matter what you do no matter what you say if you need me i will always be there forever
No matter what you do no matter what you say when i see you again we gone get back together
No matter what you do no matter what you say
if you need me i will always be there forever
No matter what you do no matter what you say
when i see you again we gone get back together for some reason i be wakin up thinkin lately where you at and what you doin girl its crazy (its crazy) even though so many years have passed us by i can still feel love betrayin me inside (its crazy i cant get you out of my mind) if i could only go back to just one moment in time in my life it be the day that i met you girl if i could only take back just one moment in time in my life it be the day that we said goodbye

you said your love for me would never fade away but just like life ever love has its growing pains but no matter what forever i will always be there

if you need me i will always be there forever
No matter what you do no matter what you say
when i see you again we gone get back together
No matter what you do no matter what you say
if you need me i will always be there forever
No matter what you do no matter what you say
when i see you again we gone get back together

if you need me i will always be there forever
No matter what you do no matter what you say
when i see you again we gone get back together
