Hit It

American Authors

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Some say if you don't go then you won't know
How to let go when you gotta let it swerveSome say if you don't try then you won't know How to get by now you said it wouldn't hurt, oh no!
If I knew then what I should have known nowUp and down jump off the deep end wreck this house
I should have left with you, with you
No way out I met your best friend she went down
And I should have made my move with youI shoulda, I woulda, I coulda but I didn't Hit it!Some say if you break down
Then you touch ground
Then you're dropped down
So you got a lot to learnBut I say pick it back up
Throw it on now
Make it stack up
'Cause tonight we're gonna burn it downIf I knew then what I should've known all along
Up and down jump off the deep end, wreck this house
I should have left with you, with you
No way out I met your best friend she went down
And I should have made my move with you
Messed up now pissed off the in crowd break this down
And my eyes are set on you, on you
We know now I'm not your best friend
Broke all vows I'll make it up to you, to youI shoulda, I woulda, I coulda but I didn't Hit it!I'm feeling lucky lay all my cards down nothing can stop me tonight we go all out
I'm feeling lucky I'll bet my hometown nothing can stop us nowI say if you don't know then you go slow
Or you don't go don't be a no show just let go
Let's get stoned from the top down to the down low, down low, let's goI say if you don't know then you go slow
Or you don't go don't be a no show just let go
Let's get stoned from the top down to the down low, down low, let's goYou, you, you, youUp and down jump off the deep end wreck this house
I should have left with you, with you
No way out I met your best friend she went down
And I should have made my move with you

Messed up now pissed off the in crowd break this down
And my eyes are set on you, on you
We know now I'm not your best friend
Broke all vows I'll make it up to you, to youI shoulda, I woulda, I coulda but I didn't Hit it!

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/