

Suffer

Duncan James

Yes, I know we're born a little bit surprised
We went a little far this time
Oh no and I said we've got too many thing to lose
Don't wanna live my life this way From a moment that lingered too long
To a battle that can never be won
So wrong, yeah Thought it's love we both want, it's a love we don't need
Let's sit here in silence, let out hearts bleed
That it's hard to be strong when you're feeling so weak
Till the night's over don't suffer alone, suffer with me So here we are standing in an empty room
I'm trying not to look at you that way 'cause I care
Thought it's hurting me so much inside
I'm trying just to be your friend today It's a song that should have never been sung
It's a race that should have never been run
So wrong, yeah If we can't share the highs might as well share the pain
I know it's breaking every rule but it helps ease the strain
I'd rather sit here in sorrow again again
In the arms of one another's suffering Thought it's love we both want, it's a love we don't need
Let's sit here in silence, let out hearts bleed
That it's hard to be strong when you're feeling so weak
Till the night's over don't suffer alone, suffer with me
