Suffer

Duncan James

Yes, I know we're born a little bit surprised We went a little far this time Oh no and I said we've got too many thing to lose Don't wanna live my life this wayFrom a moment that lingered too long To a battle that can never be won So wrong, yeahThought it's love we both want, it's a love we don't need Let's sit here in silence, let out heats bleed That it's hard to be strong when you're feeling so week Till the night's over don't suffer alone, suffer with meSo here we are standing in an empty room I'm trying not to look at you that way 'cause I care Thought it's hurting me so much inside I'm trying just to be your friend todayIt's a song that should have never been sung It's a race that should have never been run So wrong, yeahIf we can't share the highs might as well share the pain I know it's breaking every rule but it helps ease the strain I'd rather sit here in sorrow again again In the arms of one another's sufferingThought it's love we both want, it's a love we don't need Let's sit here in silence, let out heats bleed That it's hard to be strong when you're feeling so week Till the night's over don't suffer alone, suffer with me
