

Open Your Eyes

The Redemption Song

won't you help to sing this song for it's so hard to see from here all the things we build today and all the hell that we create.
our eyes stay closed because of fear and we try so hard in vain in the hell that we create.
wake up from your dreaming, open your eyes.
so did you think we lied when we said goodbye?
cos we won't be pulled down by all your lies.
take my hand, hold on, listen to me when i say open your eyes.
