Unguarded

Rae Morris.

Calling future love
Do you exist?
I've been silence in fears through all of this
Counting miles from my safe
Behind the glass
Calculating how long this will last

I've been wrong to be guarded some time
Such a delicate prize I'm not about to share
Put the pain of the present aside
I have a future in mind for us

Where will we be unguarded together
Unguarded in love
Color me any color that you want
Can I see enough?

Calling future love
Don't take too long
Part of me is struggled by the time that's gone
Guide me closer when I flourish of passion height
Tell me when I'm not quite doing it right

I keep it all in
Everything guard in
I keep it all in
Everything guard in
