

Unsaid Things

Cimorelli

This girl that moved just up the road from me
She had the nicest legs I've ever seen
And back then she wrote me letters just to say she loved me
But now her face is just a memory Now that seven years have gone
And I've grown up but she moved on
Somehow I'm still holding on to her I've still got so many unsaid things that I wanna say
And I just can't wait another day I wish she knew
I still wait up wondering if she will remember me
But there's no way for me to know Now she's got pregnant with her baby
It feels like she's slipping away from me
Now that she's getting married I'm in misery
'Cos her fiancée's so much bigger than me 'Cos he works out a lot
There's not much that he ain't got
And right now I'm losing the plot
Along with her But I still got so many unsaid things that I wanna say
And I just can't wait another day I wish she knew
That I still wait up wondering if she will remember me
But there's no way for me to know and I want her to know
(Before she's married and has her baby)
That I need her I've still got so many unsaid things that I wanna say
And I just can't wait another day
I wish she knew I still wait up wondering if she will remember me
But there's no way for me to know
