

Kerosene

Ryan Lill

I'll Love until the lights go out, then feel around the dark and get filled with doubts like maybe I am, maybe I'm not.
I need you in the bed when I'm alone to burn me with your fire like you did before just light it up or put it out.

Love until the lights go, love until the lights go love until the lights go out.
and you're telling me, telling me everything I need to be, everything I need to be everything I need to be

You're the Kerosene on my flames you'd walk right over my grave you're the cracks in the window pains
I can feel you
Breath in and I feel the pain cause loving you is just the same as a match onto gasoline
i can feel you
burning me

I thought I lost that part of me the one who crashed and burned so quietly, now I'm here now I'm here.
I thought anxiety would take control you lifted up right before I let it go and let it out all of these words that are pouring right out of my mouth.

love until the lights go out.
everything I need to be

I can feel you

Breath in and I feel the pain

i can feel you
burning me

I know you're gonna burn me pouring on your kerosene burn.

burn.

you're kerosene.

You're the Kerosene on my flames

I can feel you

Breath in and I feel the pain

i can feel you
burning me
