

You Can't Steal My Love

Mando Diao

I was walking down the street
With my chain chain chain tied up to my feet
I leaned instead of jiggle with the sidewalk
Now this street tells the same old boring tale
That has failed in so many ways of life
To trust its stories you've got to be dull as them And all the love I've got in here
You've just killed, you peasants didn't even care
And the love I had in store you raped for more
And all the dreams I had in here
You've just stolen, you peasants didn't even care
But the dreams I had for her you cannot touch, my golden hand
Cause its guarded by your promises yeah, yeah, yeah I met her in a crowded room where the bookshelves help you
And knowledge takes your hand
I watched her beauty from an armchair
I said, Hey girl have you seen that film
With those kids in New York in the eighties oh, you have Well, can I watch it with you anyway And all the love I've got in here
You've just killed, you peasants didn't even care
And the love I had in store you raped for more
And all the dreams I had in here
You've just stolen, you peasants didn't even care
But the dreams I had for her you cannot touch, my golden hand
Cause its guarded by your promises yeah, yeah, yeah Congratulations Mr. Major you savior, betrayer
You stinking master of trusts
How does it feel to ride all those horses?
You cannot touch our hearts when were in bloom
I assume that well win over the heads again
We conceal non, youll feel none, thats what I promise And all the love we've got in store
You cant kill, you peasants, we won it all
And the love I have for her you cannot touch, my golden hand
Cause its guarded by your filthy promises And all the love I've got in here
You've just killed, you peasants didn't even care
And the love I had in store you raped for more
And all the dreams I had in here
You've just stolen, you peasants didn't even care
But the dreams I had for her you cannot touch, my golden hand
Cause its guarded by your promises yeah, yeah, yeah Honey I love you, like the summer falls and the winter crawls

You're above and beyond me Honey I love you, like the summer falls and the winter crawls
You're above and beyond me Honey I love you, like the summer falls and the winter crawls
You're above and beyond me
