

Looking Down the Barrel of Today

Hatebreed

Once had a shotgun to my head they said I wasn't worth the bullets
Now the world is my trigger and I'm here to fucking pull it
Once had a shotgun to my head they said I wasn't worth the bullets
Now the world is my trigger and I'm here to fucking pull it Still here
I can't hesitate, eyes wide open, pupils dilate

Still here

Set to detonate

I see the swarm

The scavengers await No sleep, no rest

If that's what it takes to be the best

No sleep, no rest

Must stay driven, I can't relent Once had a knife to my throat they said I'd wind up in the dirt
I know the ones that doubt me are the ones that really hurt Still here, I can't hesitate, eyes wide open, pupils dilate

Set to detonate

I see the swarm

The scavengers await No sleep, no rest

If that's what it takes to be the best

No sleep, no rest

Must stay driven, I can't relent Came from the gutter

Just missed the grave

Now looking down the barrel of today Start from nothing

Stop [?]

Never put myself in that position again

Now I'm looking down the barrel of today Once had a shotgun to my head they said I wasn't worth the bullets

Now the world is my trigger, I'll fucking pull it

Once had a shotgun to my head they said I wasn't worth the bullets

Now the world is my trigger and I'm gonna fucking pull it No sleep, no rest

Must do what it takes to be the best

No sleep, no rest

Do anything that it takes to be the best
