

Those Days

Rebelution

Ever since the day I was born there dark clouds hovering over the city where I stay
I don't recollect clear days mostly the fog and haze because the city by the bay stays gray
But that's what made it great, consistently the same
Also I hated it when I wanted a change
But I wasn't afraid
Back then I thought that I would live for days
A year was an eternity so yeah I thought I had it made But I kept it hush, kept it hush, kept it hush
Yeah I kept it quiet and I never opened up
Made my own philosophy the system is corrupt
Made my own decision that I'd had enough
I just never found, what some say I would find
I was making music just so I could pass the time
Stored it in my mind, pushed it to the side
Realized that there was lots criticize
On some days, some days, I think about those days, those days
Some days, some days, reminisce about those days, those days
On some days, some days, I think about those days, those days
Some days, some days, reminisce about those days, those days When it got to may and we all celebrate
First time it hit me adding numbers to my name
And I start to see, every day was a routine
Get up in the morning same thing, every week
But I didn't speak, never opened up my mouth
Pretended I was listening when I was spacing out
Started to have doubts instead of me being devout
I would've said it loud but I don't think that was allowed
So I kept it hush, kept it hush, kept it hush
Yeah I kept it quiet and I never opened up
Made my own philosophy the system is corrupt
Made my own decision that I'd had enough
I just never found, what some say I would find
I was making music just so I could pass the time
Stored it in my mind, pushed it to the side
Realized that there was lots criticize On some days, some days, I think about those days, those days
Some days, some days, reminisce about those days, those days
On some days, some days, I think about those days, those days
Some days, some days, reminisce about those days, those days
On some days, some days, I think about those days, those days
Some days, some days, reminisce about those days, those days

On some days, some days, I think about those days, those days
Some days, some days, reminisce about those days, those days
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <https://damnllyrics.com/>